

ARE YOU LOOKING TO COMBINE QUEER SPORTS GROUPS WITH FEMINIST GIRLS WORK? HOW TO BRING A QUEER TRANSITION INTO A FEMINIST INFORMED SPORTS COMMUNITY?

We are reaching out to other queer feminist sports organizations and associations to create a learning community. We would like to talk to you about an international girls' sport for development platform - Girls in the Lead.

My name is Heather Cameron. 20 years ago as an amateur boxer and later coach I started the Boxgirls program in Berlin, Germany and also helped activists to start programs in Kenya and South Africa. I realized the challenges and opportunities in creating a space for people in the trans and queer spectrum to share a community and enjoy sports, while also building a feminist sports culture. I am now a professor and gender and economic empowerment consultant.

I would like to invite you to an online meeting with other activists in the queer trans sport field, who are also interested in working with girls. We have funding from the Postcode Foundation in Sweden to create a shared online platform for learning and sharing experiences to support other sports clubs in building what we've learned from India, Eastern and Southern Africa, the United States, and Northern Europe.

For more information on our work, see our website at Girls in the Lead and our info page.

If we have aroused your interest, please let us know by Friday November 27, your availability over doodle.com to arrange a one hour Zoom call to network with people with similar interests to share ideas.

If you have any questions, please send an email to cameron@boxgirls.org.

I look forward to meeting you,

Heather Cameron,

Founder of Boxgirls International and Girls in the Lead
